

Young Vietnamese Writers - The Range of Their Interest and Their Receivers

Kinga Kurowska, Institute of Linguistics Adam Mickiewicz University Poznan

Ly Hoang Ly was born in 1975 in Hanoi. She is a young Vietnamese poet, her poems were printed in many magazines in Vietnam and translated into French and English. Her first poetry book was published in 1999. Beside writing she also paints and works in installation and performance art. For 10 years Ms. Ly had several exhibitions all over the world.

Phan Huyen Thu was born in 1972 in Hanoi. She writes both poetry and fiction. Comes from a musical family and is a daughter of famous parents. Ms. Phan has published 2 collections of poems and a book of stories.

Ly Doi was born in Quang Nam in 1978, is a poet and essayist. Mr. Ly is a member of “Open Mouth” group. His writings were translated into English and published.

3 different persons, 3 different life stories – so do their writings have anything in common?
And are they writing only for young people?