

Hereby I affirm in lieu of an oath by my own signature that I have prepared the preceding thesis independently and without outside assistance, that I have labelled all passages taken verbatim or nearly verbatim from publications as such, and have not used any literature other than that specified. In particular, I have not used any internet sources that are not disclosed in the list of references and did not use any AI-based tools in the preparation of the paper. I have not previously submitted the thesis in any other examination procedure. This assurance also refers to any illustrations, sketches, pictorial representations and the like included in the thesis. The present written version of the paper corresponds to the version on the submitted electronic storage medium.
